Lauries of the Clubs We have assembled here to-day, on the first anniversary of the organization of the "Woman's Club and Library Association," briefly to recall some of the principal facts in the history of our accofation for the past year; also to lay nnew ecomplished in the year now opening before us. March 5th, 1875, in response to a most happy thought, two of our ento gather in the pleasant pariors of Mrs. Wardner next day. A good meeting convened. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Camlee, and in a few timely words, Mrs. Wardner stated the object of the meeting. It was not merely to offect books, and establish a circulating of literary and social questions, not only as a source of improvement for our selves, but through us to those around us. An organization was effected and sixteen cames enrolled. We have now twenty-six members, and five honorary members. During the year which has now closed, there have been one special and twenty-four regular meetings of our association. They have been well attended-twice only in the extreme Eighteenth and Walnut streets, and will warm weather have we been without a quorum. We have convened semimonthly, and been in session from two to three hours. After the performance of the business, the remainder of the time has been given to the reading of original essays, selections from journals and books, and general discussion of their contents.
